

Card of Appreciation

To our many friends and customers all over the county who contributed to our success during the past year, we desire to express our high appreciation. The past year has been a good one with us and we have striven to merit the constantly increasing patronage which we have received. It is our aim to give value received in service and quality of merchandise for every cent spent with us. We believe that we will be even better prepared to serve the public during the coming year than ever. Again expressing our high appreciation for past favors and soliciting the same consideration in the future we are, yours to serve, tapers ensconced in golden holders. The chandelier, door and window hangings were gracefully traced with evergreens.

To the strains of Mendelssohn's familiar wedding procession, which was skillfully executed by Miss Eva Viers, of Sonora, Ky., cousin of the bride, Little Miss Eugenia Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Johnson, of Columbia, Tenn., also niece of the groom, with Master Hewitt Quinn Harned, of Belmont, entered the drawing room. Next came the maid of honor, Miss Claudia Myers, of Lebanon Junction, and best man, E. H. Cochran, of Columbia, Tenn. They were followed by the bride and groom, and the wedding party gathered under a large bell suspended from an arch which was in front of an improvised altar of green plants and white roses, and the beautiful and impressive ceremony was said which made the couple man and wife.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of pale blue chiffon and real lace, over pale blue silk, with the tulle veil caught with valley lilies. Miss Myers was beautifully attired in pale blue satin and carried white carnations.

Little Miss Johnson was daintily attired in white lingerie and real lace and ribbon.

Immediately following the ceremony was a reception to the many guests assembled, and an elaborate menu was served, Mrs. H. M. Johnson and Miss Ethel Smith, sisters of the bride, presided at the frappe bowls. Mrs. Johnson wore white net and Miss Smith wore blue satin. The white and green decorations were carried out in the most artistic way in the dining room. Over the center of the tables were immense bells. In the center of the large tables were baskets filled with bride's roses and ferns, and to the candles were attached large bows of tulle. These were surrounded by golden candle sticks with green shades alternating with small crystal mounds. Music was rendered during the entire reception by the Roby Band.

The many beautiful presents attest the popularity of the young couple. The bride is one of the most popular young ladies in Kentucky and she leaves a host of friends here who wish her the greatest happiness.

Mr. Fleming is a prosperous farmer of Maury county. Mr. and Mrs. Fleming left Thursday for Lawrenceburg, Tenn., where they will be entertained Thursday night by the groom's brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Fleming. They will be entertained Friday night by his sister and brother, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Johnson, of Columbia.

SOCIETY.

Dance for Visitors.

The woman's building was the scene of a delightful dancing party last evening, when Miss Ida May Weddle and Miss Lollie Yahnke were the charming hostesses, entertaining in honor of several attractive visiting girls, Misses Mary Margaret Perkins and Ruby Mae Leach, of Murfreesboro, Teddie Thurman, of Dallas, Texas; Emma Clare Moore, of Columbia, Tenn.; and Octavia Graham, of San Antonio, Texas.

The ball room was prettily decorated with Christmas greenery, forming an effective background for the group of pretty girls in the receiving line.

Miss Weddle was gowned in blue embroidered chiffon over blue satin with trimmings with white marabou and crystal, and Miss Yahnke wore violet messaline with overdraperies of gold marquisettes and pearl trimmings.

The honor guests were all charmingly gowned. Miss Leach in Persian chiffon over pink satin with trimmings of white marabou. Miss Perkins in white satin with blue trimmings. Miss Thurman in black chiffon over cherry satin with gold garniture. Miss Graham in white lace over pink satin with trimmings of silver, and Miss Moore in pink chiffon over pink satin with pearl garniture.

Between dances delicious punch was dispensed to the guests, about 300 of whom were present under the Family Reunion.

One of the pleasant events of the week was the family reunion yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Neely on Garden street, when a bountiful dinner was given in honor of their son John and his bride, who was Miss Sadie Hayes, of Fayetteville. The dinner was also in celebration of A. E. Neely's eighty-first birthday. Mr. Neely has lived in and near Columbia all his life and counts his friends by the hundreds, all of whom wish him many more years of happy usefulness. Mr. and Mrs. John Neely leave today for their home in Nashville.

In Honor of Miss Willis.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Melton, of Nashville, entertained last Thursday in honor of their house guest, Miss Evie Willis, of Santa Fe. Games were played at two tables. Fruits and bonbons were served at a late hour. The guest list composed Miss Bernice Hester and Horace Looney, Miss Laura Stone and John Hester, Miss Evie Willis and Ben Williams, Miss Gladys Hester and Alonzo Thompson, Miss Mary Wade, Miss Tommie Smith, and W. A. Willis. Mrs. Melton was assisted in receiving by the charming honoree.

Walker-Lane.

Special to The Herald.
WILLIAMSPORT, Tenn., Dec. 30.—The marriage of Miss Pearl Lane to J. H. Walker was solemnized at the home of the bride, Rev. M. C. Dickson of the Methodist church officiating. Both the young people are prominent in this section.

Fleming-Smith.

Special to The Herald.
BELMONT, Ky., Dec. 30.—A beautiful home wedding was that of Miss Lida Rebecca Smith and Eugene Fleming, of Columbia, Tenn., which was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Smith, at Belmont, Ky., the Rev. Mr. Campbell, of Lebanon Junction, Ky., officiating.

The Smith home was artistically decorated in palms, ferns, vines and holly and lighted with white waxen

Mrs. Haggard's luncheon.

Elegant in all of its appointments and most beautiful in design was the luncheon served today by Mrs. William T. Haggard in honor of Miss Shook. The guest list included young ladies of Columbia, Franklin and Nashville. The dining room was beautifully decorated in red and green a color scheme that was carried through the luncheon which was served in courses. The favors were miniature Santa Claus and Christmas trees, the whole design being suggestive of the holiday season. The out-of-town guests were: Misses Catherine Armistead, Mack Anderson Davis, Ruth Lester and Gayle Tigert, of Nashville, and Misses Leonora Mayberry, Louise Bailey, Kittle McLeomore, Elizabeth Eggleston, Leah Cowan, Sara Henderson, Florence Kennedy, Susie Lee Roberts, and Kernan Faw, of Franklin.

Miss Lela Wilkes Entertained.

After the play of Diamond and Hearts at Culleoka Friday night, Miss Lela Wilkes entertained the members of the play and the visitors from Columbia and a number of friends of Culleoka at her home. An ice course was served and about two hours were spent in conversation.

In Honor of Mr. and Mrs. Fleming.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Fleming, whose marriage took place at Belmont, Ky., last Wednesday afternoon, were entertained at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fleming, on the Hampshire pike Friday night. The guest list was limited to only relatives of the family. During the evening a dainty lunch course was served.

Alexander-Murphy.

News was received here today by friends and relatives from Fulton, Ky., stating that Miss Elsie Murphy, sister of Mrs. Innis Dobbins, had married Henry Alexander, of Fulton. The marriage was a green affair and was performed at the home of the groom's parents last Wednesday evening. Both the bride and the groom are quite young. Mr. Alexander is still in medical college, and it was this fact that the young lady's parents objected to. The young couple remained at the groom's home until today when they left for Cincinnati and the young bride will remain there until Mr. Alexander has finished college. The bride is quite favorably remembered here as the guest of Miss Olive Dobbins and was one of the most popular and beautiful of Columbia's visitors for the past two seasons.

For Mr. and Mrs. Fleming.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Fleming, of Lawrenceburg, charmingly entertained at a dinner Thursday evening in compliment to their brother and his bride, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Fleming, of Columbia, whose marriage was solemnized last Wednesday afternoon at Belmont, Ky. The Fleming home was artistically decorated in holiday attire, and decorations in the dining room where a five course dinner was served, the large dining table with its handsome lace center piece and hand painted place cards was exquisite. In the center placed upon the lace piece was a large mirror to give the effect of a miniature lake and suspended immediately over this was a large Christmas bell. Covers were laid for only ten and running from the edge of the mirror were ribbons to which were the place cards, and when the last course was served the guests were requested to pull and the presents were revealed, each guest receiving a token. Besides the honorees, Mrs. T. A. Leach and J. W. Fleming, father of the groom were present from Columbia.

Cosmopolitan Club.

The Cosmopolitan Club met with Miss Cora Lee Jacobs Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. A paper on Southern France was prepared by Miss Inez Kelley, and one on Parisian Homes and Home Life was read by Miss Brown.

For Brides.

Mrs. Hardin P. Figueroa entertained at a six o'clock dinner Saturday evening in compliment to her two nephews, T. Norfleet Figueroa, Jr., and William J. Dale, Jr., and their brides. Covers were laid for only the immediate family and the honorees.

Six O'Clock Dinner

Miss Margaret Dodson entertained a number of her friends at her home on North Garden street Saturday night at a six o'clock dinner. Six courses were served. The dinner was given to celebrate the coming of the new year, and after the dinner the party remained up to bid farewell to nineteen ten. Many interesting games were played, and delightful refreshments were served at their conclusion.

Wilkins-Butler.

Mrs. Minnie Lou Butler, of Columbia and Ashby Wilkins, of Hohenwald, were married in Nashville Saturday. They returned to Columbia Sunday, and will remain here for some time, after which they will return to the home of Mr. Wilkins, near Hohenwald, where he is interested in a large timber contract. The ceremony was performed in Nashville by Rev. A. B. Pendleton. The couple went to Nashville Saturday. Both parties have many friends here who wish them a pleasant journey through life.

Watch Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Moody Allen, of Santa Fe entertained about fifty guests at a very enjoyable watch party Saturday night. Refreshments were served at midnight, just as the passing of the old year.

New Year's Dinner.

Mrs. J. W. Shapiro entertained Sunday with an eight-course dinner, to celebrate the coming of 1911. A musical program was rendered at the conclusion of the enjoyable dinner, at which the following guests were seated: Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Walters, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Johnson, Little Jewell Church, Miss Grace Walker, Mrs. Roxie Church, Joe Mullin, of Sewanee, Will Holland, John Adkisson and J. W. Adkisson, of Bowling Green, Ky.

Calendar Party.

One of the prettiest entertainments of the holidays given for the young folks was the calendar party given at the home of Miss Margaret Cheairs Greenlaw, in celebration of the coming of the New Year. The house was prettily decorated for the glad occasion, the colors being those denoting the Yuletide season, green and red. Bowls of blooming narcissus and lilies added their gladness to the general attractiveness of the decorations. In the library where the contests took place, a gaily-decorated Christmas tree further emphasized the end of the year. The guests were seated at tables and provided with pencils and a calendar pad. The object was to see which one could fashion the most artistic calendar. The place cards were pretty hand painted heads, each with a miniature calendar attached.

The efforts of the girls produced much merriment. Miss Zulema Brownlow won the prize for the best calendar, the booby prize going to Miss Sara Leach. A dainty ice course was served after the contests, the color scheme of red and green being carried out through the entire course. The individual cakes were prettily decorated in white and green, with the figures "1911" in red.

Moore-Denton.

Miss Katie Sue Denton and Laurie Moore, of Glendale, drove to Culleoka Sunday afternoon at four-thirty o'clock and went to the home of Rev. Mr. Robinson and were quietly married. Only the pastor's family was present to witness the ceremony. The marriage was not a run-away affair, but the young couple preferred a quiet marriage to that of a public one. Immediately after the ceremony the young couple drove to the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Moore at Glendale, where a supper was given them that night. The young couple will be at home with the groom's parents. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Denton and is one of the county's most charming young ladies and has a host of friends who wish her joy. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Moore and is a prosperous farmer.

House Party.

Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Covey, of Glendale, have been entertaining the following guests at a house party for the past week: Miss Mildred Tomlinson, of Culleoka; Miss Katie Park, of Parks Station; Mr. and Mrs. Laurie Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Kannon, of Glendale, and Billard Tomlinson, of Culleoka. Monday evening Dr. and Mrs. Covey entertained their house guests with a six o'clock dinner. Covers were laid for eight and a sumptuous four course menu was served. The table decorations were in keeping with the holiday season.

New Year's Hop.

The Delta Chi Omega Sorority will give their annual New Year's ball at the Columbia Institute Friday night at 8:30.

In Honor of Mr. and Mrs. Earle.

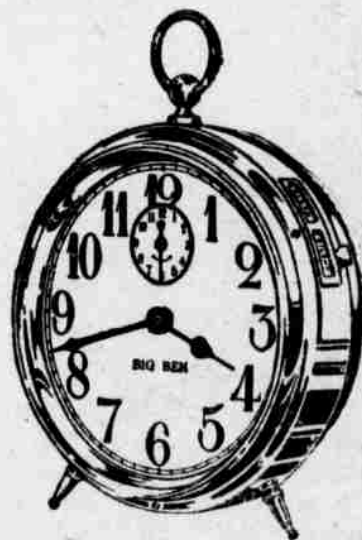

Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Earle entertained in a delightful way on Thursday evening, December 29, in honor of their son and his bride, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Eugene Earle. The reception hours were from eight to ten o'clock, and many guests called during the evening. The home was tastefully decorated throughout in the Christmas colors, holly and red bells and poinsettias in profusion and red candles with red shades set a glow of warmth and festivity over the rooms. Dr. and Mrs. Earle were assisted in receiving by Mrs. L. A. Harper and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Reese; Miss Wilena Harper wore a lovely red mouseline dress and presided in a charming manner over the punch bowl. Dainty refreshments were served in the dining room by Misses Cleveland, Adams and Reese. The bride, Mrs. Earle, wore a handsome white chiffon gown with pearl trimmings and looked lovely when she cordially and winsomely received her husband's friends for the first time. By her beautiful face, fascinating manners and sweet personality she will undoubtedly prove a most welcome addition to Elberton society. Mrs. Earle was Miss Vivienne Harrington, of Nashville, Tenn., was considered one of Tennessee's loveliest women and has a wide circle of friends in that and other States. Claude Earle, who has been traveling for several years, well deserves his splendid reputation and is a man of truly sterling worth and integrity.—Elberton (Ga.) News.

Mrs. Earle is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Sowell of this city, and having visited here often has many friends who wish her happiness.
